Introduction

The development of the Gladiolus is a matter of recent history, mostly taking place within the past 8 years, and still in active progress. In that time the long-familiar scarlet has been extended through the spectrum, and from the purest white of Carmen Sylvia to an almost true black of Empress of India, though the blues are as yet rather too lightly represented. The Primulinus Hybrids range from the palest primrose to a deep red, their African heredity showing in a persistent trend toward the yellows, which are more numerous. Among the variegated sorts nearly everything imaginable in dots, lines, stripes, bands, and irregular splotches, delicate almost to invisibility or startlingly vivid, and in a bewildering variety of combinations, may be found.

The variations of form and size of bloom have become so great that the small flowered Pink Beauty and giant flowered Le Marechal Foch, the compact Schwaben and the spreading Elora, the smooth Mrs. Frank Pendleton and the highly-ruffled Mrs. John R. Walsh seem like different species.

Developed traits, now fixed, and naturally governing the seasons of various sorts, give us each year, at Edgewater, a constant succession of bloom, starting in June with Wilbrinck, Prince of Wales and Halley and ending in October with Red Canna, Peace, Sentinel until frost. Many varieties, such as Wilbrinck, Rubini, Majestic, and Marcheeta usually send up two or more spikes, flowering successively, while the season of any one may be lengthened by varying the depth and time of planting.

In buying bulbs, size is no criterion, as many choice sorts do not produce large bulbs. The essentials are that the bulbs be well developed, firm, healthy, and of blooming age, which large ones are often past.

We list mainly proven varieties, which it is unlikely that new ones will ever displace, though believing new ones well worth trying. If expense must be carefully considered a wealth of bloom and much satisfaction can be had from the mixtures. But if able to indulge the tastes any buyer is sure to feel well repaid in the possession of Mrs. W. B. Davis, Mildred Adeline, Mrs. L. Douglas, G. Farrar, Sterling, Alice May, W. H. Phipps, Bengal Tiger, etc.

ROY E. SHELLEY.

EDGEWATER GIFT BOXES

Make very attractive and lasting remembrances for your friends. A gift that grows gives greater pleasure than cut flowers as the receiver has the enjoyment of planting and the satisfaction of watching the plants grow.

The box contains a baker's dozen, one each of thirteen varieties, not labeled, but if bought named would cost considerable more. All large flowered varieties.

The wrapper shows eleven varieties in color and gives directions for planting.

Price each, postpaid, 75 cents.

HOW TO GROW GLADIOLI FOR BLOOM AND FOR BULBS

Gladioli will grow and produce fine bloom in any good garden soil, if given plenty of sun. A sandy soil is best, a clay soil poorest. If it must be fertilized, let this be done in the fall. Fresh manure will scald the bulbs if it comes in contact with them.

Set the bulbs 4 to 6 inches deep and 6 inches apart. Deep planting keeps the spike erect at blooming time, and the plants stand drouth better. By planting every 10 days after danger of frost is over, until July, you will have full bloom until frost.

Keep weeds out. Keep a dust mulch around the plants in dry weather. Do not water Gladioli except in extreme dry weather and at blooming time for the reason that if you begin watering you must keep it up until the season is over. Cut the spike when the first bud is unrolled. Leave 3 or 4 leaves to help mature the bulb. Cut off half an inch of spike when renewing the water each morning—nearly all the buds will open and you will have a beautiful bouquet for ten days.

The bulbs should be taken up in October before the ground freezes and dried thoroughly. Cut the foliage close to the bulb. When dry, store them in a cellar away from frost and not too dry.

If these instructions are followed, the bulbs will give you the best results for several years. The old roots may be broken off any time before planting.

If you will advise as to character of soil, grounds, etc., we will send specific instructions to fit your conditions.

TESTIMONIALS

The Edgewater Farms.

MISSOURI

Gentlemen:—Just a few lines to express my thanks for and appreciation of the "bakers dozen" of gladioli bulbs which I received from you on the 24th inst. They surely are all fine, vigorous looking bulbs. I has then planted within an hour after receiving them and am hoping they will give me some pretty flowers this summer. Wishing you much success this season I remain,
Sincerely yours, REBECCA M. HANDLEY.

IOWA.

Dear Sirs:—Received the glad bulbs, was a little fearful they might be frosted but on account of being well packed, think they will be all right. They are fine bulbs, clean and full size. Good count. Thanks for the extras
